The ILVE Company

The ILVE Company

Founded in Campodarsego in the Province of Padua, Italy, ILVE proudly carries on its fine tradition of technical expertise in the manufacturing of steel combined with continuous research in modern processing and technology. ILVE's continued success is due to their extraordinary flexibility in design and production, and their ability to meet every need in the kitchen with customizable solutions. ILVE collections are efficient, versatile, reliable, and designed to last day after day, year after year.

The ILVE Company

For over 50 years ILVE has been a world-class leader in cooking systems. They first introduced their oversized built-in oven in 1969, and only a few years later unveiled their revolutionary Panoramagic range cooker. In their half-century of continued research and commitment, ILVE has designed and implemented solutions that have raised the levels of performance, safety, and satisfaction in the kitchen—because cooking well means living well.

The reliability of ILVE products and services have been proven for many decades. Every ILVE appliance and range cooker is produced in-line with the highest quality certifications, and manually assembled by skilled craftsmen who oversee even the smallest detail. This guarantees perfect operation for decades, as evidenced by the satisfaction of our many customers who demand functionality, safety and durability.

The word ILVE is an acronym that stands for:

I – Industria
L – Lavorazione
V – Veneta
E – Elettrodomestici

This translates to 'industrial standard electrical appliances made in Venice'.

Inside Nina Dobrev's Stunning European Style Home

European influences can be found throughout the kitchen

Many of the kitchen elements have European heritage, just like Dobrev herself. The stunning oven, which looks almost too beautiful to cook on, was imported from Italy. According to Architectural Digest, it's made by a brand called ILVE, which is known for creating stylish and high-performing commercial-grade cooking appliances. These handcrafted ovens are produced in the company's headquarters outside of Venice, which was established in 1952, per the brand's official website.
